

December 6, 2010

Before we transition to Christmas, we would like to share with you some things that we are still giving thanks for here in the ministry of Lifepoint Baptist Church.

Represented in the first picture is Matt Lee (pictured left) who helped us two years ago start Lifepoint. Matt asked me to pray for his sister, Jennifer (pictured right), to accept Christ. God answered that prayer, she was baptized and is currently going through an intensive discipleship material with one of our ladies. Both Matt and Jennifer work with John (pictured center) and they invested in his life spiritually and invited John and his wife to church. John accepted Christ as His personal Lord and Savior at our Sunday service, November 28th. He will be baptized on December 26th.

Becky (pictured left) was introduced to our church when a member of Lifepoint simply bought her a Dr. Pepper. She has been un-churched for a long time but has been faithfully attending for several months. During the week of Thanksgiving, her daughter, Mattie (pictured center) accepted Christ and was baptized. We are thankful for her teacher, Kim (pictured right) for investing the Word of God into her life.

On Friday night, November 19th we opened our church to pack shoe boxes filled with toys, hygiene and other personal items, and the greatest gift of all – the story of Jesus Christ. These boxes will be sent around the world through the ministry of Operation Christmas Child. Perhaps in heaven we will get to meet some of the boys and girls that was touched by a simple gift. Pictured at top is the new Mayor Elect of our city, Bill Edwards. Pray for Bill and his wife to connect with our church as a place to call their own.

Lastly, we ask that you pray for Heather and her four kids. God allowed our paths to cross so that we could show the love of Christ to her. She recently moved to our area because her husband left her. We have been able to help her not just financially but spiritually as well. She has a difficult road to travel but all things are possible with Jesus!

As we close, we just want to remind those who pray and support our new church that you have invested in these lives as well and the Lord Jesus is adding fruit to your account in Heaven.

With thanksgiving,
Pastor Mike Brinson
